WHAT TO EXPECT

WHY YOU NEED A BUYER'S AGENT

With so many online options, why does anyone need a buyer's agent? The truth is, while there may be more information available, so many choices can be confusing and time-consuming. The best-educated buyers know, when they are ready to buy, they need to put the professional expertise of a buyer's agent to work for them.

A Buyer's Agent will:

- Listen to your needs and wants and truly get to know you and what you are looking for in a home
- Assist you with the loan qualification process, should you need one
- Share with you their knowledge and expertise about the home buying process
- Educate you about the area, neighborhoods and your options
- Find the perfect home for you that is within your budget
- Help you understand the Arizona state purchase contract and negotiate on your behalf
- Once you are in escrow, help you navigate the home buying process and represent your interests every step of the way
- Give you the reassurance of knowing you used a certified, licensed professional for one of the most important purchases of your life

QUESTIONS REAL ESTATE AGENTS HATE!

It's important to know the track record of the Agent who is going to take care of one of your largest investments. Ask us and any other Realtor to see who will do the most for you.

- Is it your full-time job? While experience is no guarantee of skill, real estate — like many other professions — is mostly learned on the job.
- How many homes did you and your team sell last year? By asking this question, you'll get a good idea of how much experience the practitioner has.
- Will you represent me exclusively, or will you represent both the buyer and the seller in the transaction? While it's usually legal to represent both parties in a transaction, it's important to understand where the practitioner's obligations lie. Your REALTOR® should explain his or her agency relationship to you and describe the rights of each party.
- Can you recommend service providers who can help me obtain a mortgage, make home repairs, and assist with other tasks? Because REALTORS® are immersed in the industry, they're wonderful resources as you seek lenders, home improvement companies, and other home service providers. Practitioners should generally recommend more than one provider and let you know if they have any special relationship with or receive compensation from any of the providers.
- What type of support do you have as an agent? Having in-house support staff, such as a full-time listing assistant, full-time transaction coordinator, and full-time marketer can be very beneficial in the listing and transaction process.
- What's your business philosophy? While there's no right answer to this question, the response will help you assess what's important to the agent and determine how closely the agent's goals and business emphasis mesh with your own.
- How will you keep me informed about the progress of my transaction? How frequently? Again, this is not a question with a correct answer, but how you judge the response will reflect your own desires. Do you want updates twice a week or do you prefer not to be bothered unless there's a hot prospect? Do you prefer phone, e-mail, text, or an in-person visit?

REAL REVIEWS & SOCIAL PROOF OF OUR SUCCESS

We couldn't be happier!! Kim Womble helped us sell our house and found our perfect forever home!!! The process was so smooth and went so quick. She was even able to get us into our new home almost 2 weeks earlier than anticipated. We couldn't be more pleased with our experience working with Kim!!

--Erika Munday

DJ Sheridan was more than helpful in the buying process. This was our first time buying a house and as you can imagine it was very stressful moving to a new state and dealing with all the legal jargon that goes along with buying a house. DJ broke everything down for us "Barney style" and made the process smooth and seamless. We appreciate everything he has done and will use him or his agency again when we buy our next house.

--Kyle Zobel

Anthony Kunow was always responsive and informative. Our house sold in about three days. It was hectic and Anthony was always on top of things. Five stars plus on everything

-- Lex Guinn

"Trying to purchase a home in this type of market is tough and discouraging at times. I had resigned myself to the fact that I may have to wait another year to purchase a home. Then I found Carie Banuelos. Meeting with her for the first time to look at a home, I put in an offer that Carie worked so diligently to get accepted. I am now sitting in my home 30 days later! I would highly recommend Carie to anyone I know and even strangers!!!"

--Jennifer Lynn Loring

“Most Personable, attentive, and honest realtor in the business! He timely answered all of our questions, big or small, with precise detail and transparency. With the immense stress of buying your first home, DJ Walters made every showing fun and made sure our list of wants/needs were addressed. In todays extremely competitive market, having an unbelievable negotiator in your corner is an absolute must. We can’t thank you enough DJ, you’re the best!

--JayKnapp86

“Kim has been helping me for over a year and always did a great job, was always pleasant, courteous, on time and never complained about the out of the way places I wanted to see. She is awesome, both as a realtor and as a person, who has become a friend. I will always use her for my realtor.”

--Bob Fowler

“We heard about DJ Sheridan from a colleague of my husband’s, and from our first contact over the phone we had such a good feeling that we didn’t look elsewhere. He was immediately available to us in any way necessary, and extremely helpful. Along with looking at a ton of houses together over a single weekend, we also enjoyed some great conversations and learned a lot about Prescott and Prescott Valley. During the entire course of the deal and even beyond, DJ has been there for us no matter what we asked for, including great recommendations for moving help, finding a tile professional, and other referrals. He’s a really trusted resource at this point. We see him as always going the extra mile and we really appreciate it. We wouldn’t hesitate to recommend him to others, and in fact we already have!”

--Jon & Judy Rudin

“Brian Purcell worked extremely hard and through difficult scenarios to make my sale possible! I’m grateful for him and his affiliation with Realty Executives.”

--Greg Nugent
